

After 12 years as partners, Graham and Jamie are not so much as team as a single, symbiotic Hive Mind. Despite (or perhaps because of) this unholy fusion, they consistently produce internationally-recognized creative that meets strategic guidelines and exceeds expected results. This, and their boyish good looks, has earned them the respect and friendship of present and past clients. Currently employed at a multi-national agency, Graham & Jamie have created great work in every medium. They are also the creators of Words & Pictures, a weekly advertising comic read in 99 countries, from New York to Norway.
